Hong Kong Squash became the first National Sports Association to receive 'Directors of The Year Awards' in the categories of Statutory / Non-profit-distributing Organizations by The Hong Kong Institute of Directors in 2017. The award recognised achievement in demonstrating the high standards in corporate governance. @hong kong squash

Chairman Mr. David Mui (pictured left) and the Association's General Committee, were commended by the panel of judges saying, "The Board of Hong Kong Squash has established sound principles and procedures in terms of corporate governance, with policies on risk management, financial controls, internal controls, compliance and reporting in place. Its supervision and evaluation of strategic plans developed by the management team contribute to the continual success of the organization. The Board totally deserves the Award."

In 1986 the ISRF (now WSF) and ISPA (now PSA) got together to try and jointly market a men's World Grand Prix. This prospectus - see it on the library website at <https://www.squashlibrary.info/general-resources> - was used to try and find a Grand Prix sponsor. The search failed and led to the umbrella body MISTC disbanding. Squash - PSA World Tour World Squash Federation

It enabled WSF from 2014 to move alongside other international federations who unified their sports to manage entries/draws/results, eliminate player-name confusion and duplications, align to IOC principles, manage discipline and also support themselves and regions with fees and rebates. Canada and USA could not become members of the ISRF (previous name of WSF) when it was founded in 1967 as at the time their emphasis on hardball meant that they could not readily participate in international competition. However, the two important countries became Associate Members in 1968 then Full members in 1969, and retrospectively in 1971 were given founder member status. ## The World Squash Federation What it is and what it does

WSF MISSION
The World Governing Body for Squash the WSF's mission is to keep the sport growing and maintain its quality and reputation as one of the most exciting and enjoyable participant and spectator sports in the world.

SQUASH AND THE WORLD SQUASH FEDERATION
The sport of Squash was first played over 100 years ago and is now played in over 130 nations. The International Squash Rackets Federation was formed in 1967 to promote and co-ordinate the sport, and was being changed in 1992 to the World Squash Federation (WSF). The WSF is recognised by the International Olympic Committee (IOC) as the International Federation for Squash. It is a member of the General Association of International Sports Federations (GAISF) and the International Association of IOC-Recognised International Sports Federations (AICISF). The President of which is a WSF Vice-President.

MEMBERSHIP OF THE WSF
The WSF has 105 Members, all of which are National Associations of Squash, recognised by their National Olympic Association or Ministry of Sport. Member nations are required to be in membership of one of the regional Squash Federations, which are an integral part of the structure.

MANAGEMENT OF THE WSF
The WSF is controlled by a Management Committee responsible for the day-to-day work of the Federation. The Committee is elected by Member Nations and consists of a President and three Vice-Presidents, who serve two year terms of office. An Executive Committee, consisting of Management Committee plus one Regional Vice-President appointed by each of the five Regional Federations, assists the President in strategy and policy making processes. The WSF secretary is a full time position.

WORLD SQUASH CALENDAR
The Federation works closely with the two player associations, the Professional Squash Association and the Women's Squash Players Association, to coordinate the world Squash. World Circuit events are held in all major nations and are integrated with the World Championships to ensure that there are no clashes of dates.

WORLD CHAMPIONSHIPS
The WSF is responsible for organising and promoting World Championships for men, women, boys, girls and masters and team level and in singles and doubles. World Team events of each type are held every two years, with the World Championships for Senior Men and Women also being held. World events are hosted by WSF member nations, and occur every four years in advance.

COACHING
The WSF is responsible for coordinating the program of training and accreditation by member nations and the comparison of qualifications. The Federation appoints Consultant Coaches whose prime role is to undertake projects within member associations.

DEVELOPMENT
One of the most important of all the functions undertaken by the WSF is the development of Squash, not only in countries where it is not yet established but also where it is already established. Advice on all matters is given to member nations and implemented by specialists recommended by the WSF.

WPSA/ISPA Merger Update

Extensive discussions between the WPSA and the International Squash Players Association (ISPA) continue to move the professional players' association closer to a merger.

The result of WPSA Executive Director John Nimick's three-day trip to London and Cardiff, Wales, home of the ISPA, was the first draft constitution for an integrated world body.

Comprehensive evaluation by the WPSA Board of Directors of the proposed new constitution, an amalgamation of the WPSA By-laws and the current ISPA Constitution, and the creation of a binding Letter of Agreement are the next steps to be taken by the WPSA. The working title of the new global sanctioning and players organization is the Professional Squash Association (PSA). Although the working title and several key financial points are not completely settled at this time, progress has been made on the majority of merger issues. As ISPA Executive Director Roger Eady points out, "We are very eager to effect this merger. North America has tremendous growth potential for professional and recreational squash. The WPSA has proven its expertise in promoting both events and a successful circuit and organizing and standardizing Teaching Pro's. Now that soft ball is gaining in popularity so rapidly in the U.S., having the cooperation and services of the WPSA and its resources can only be a significant gain for the world game."

The security of the hard ball game is an obvious issue in the merger discussions. Agreement has already been reached by the two associations to include hard ball doubles and singles rankings in the published "world" rankings. In addition, 25 per cent of all qualifying spots in all draws will be open to "non-ranked" players. Particularly in doubles, crossover will be encouraged and expected.

The premise of the merger continues to be predicated on a two-year political and financial moratorium preserving significant WPSA decision-making autonomy. WPSA Board and membership voting rights will retain primary authority over the internal business and policies of the North American PSA division until December 31, 1994. At that time, the World Board will have the authority over all aspects of PSA business.

The World Board will be constituted by four (4) elected member representatives, voted on by all PSA members world-wide, the PSA Executive Director, currently Roger Eady, and two (2) North American representatives nominated from within the North American Advisory Board.

The current plan to proceed on the merger involves a July 12 WPSA Board Meeting to review the PSA Constitution and Letter of Agreement, and an August 7 Annual General Meeting to seek membership ratification. The AGM is tentatively scheduled for 3:30 p.m. on the Friday at the Loews New York Hotel in New York City. Elections for committee members and the Executive Slate will take place at that time.

It is necessary for the WPSA to have twenty (20) voting members at the AGM to effect a voting quorum. The Association is planning a full day of subsidized activity around the August 7

AGM. Tentatively, golf and tennis are being planned for the Apawamis Club in the morning and a cocktail/luncheon party (guests invited) at some hip NY spot after the meeting. (Quick, someone call Rick Wahlstedt!) The WPSA is planning to offset the costs of some of this activity, details to follow. Hopefully, this day will be enjoyable and memorable.

Please continue to communicate with Rob Hill, Jack Herrick, the Board, John Nimick, Suzanne Magro and all others involved, with your thoughts and suggestions. We look forward to seeing as many of you as possible on August 7 for the confirmation of these plans.

Ten years ago Dutchman Lou Zandvliet, credited as the founder of the European Squash Federation, passed away at the age of 84. An international player, Zandvliet had the idea of forming a group of European countries to compete against each other and to promote the welfare of Squash, within Europe.
The European Squash Rackets Federation was founded on 17th April 1973, organised by a team of honorary officers and Lou Zandvliet was, from the start, one of the elected vice-chairmen. And following Lennart Iepsen's (Sweden) term of office as Chairman at the beginning until 1977, Lou Zandvliet was his natural successor. He presided until 1985.

After coaching and assisting at events for a number of years, in 1993 Liz Addison started with Squash South Africa. Now 28 years later almost certainly the most experienced administrator in Africa is retiring this month.

For the last 20 years (since 2001) she has been Secretary General for the African Squash Federation as the nations wanted her talents too!

To her coaching and event background (including acting as Technical Delegate numerous times), grass roots development always featured highly in areas that she would promote and encourage.

Knowledgeable, experienced, patient and immensely popular too, she has been the go-to person to manage any requirements in her country and region, so it is doubtful that she will be allowed to retire fully!

In 2004 a landmark joint World Squash Anti-Doping Code was signed between the World Federation (WSF) and the Men's & Women's Pro Tours (then PSA & WISPA). The three associations published a common code in their regulations so that testing and penalty procedures became jointly administered.

At that time the Director General of WADA, the World Anti-Doping Agency, stated "Squash has set an example of how professional organisations and leagues can work hand-in-hand with an International Federation to use the Code as the basis for the fight against doping in sport. It is an example we at WADA would encourage all professional organisations and leagues around the world to follow." In 1987 a motion was passed changing from this to President and 2 Vice Presidents* + Secretary / Treasurer. Following this, in 1991, the number of VPs was expanded to three*. Two years later the Secretary / Treasurer position was dropped. (*Both genders required)

The number of VPs increased from 3 to 4 at the WSF AGM in 2016.

In 1986 the ISRF (now WSF) and ISPA (now PSA) jointly formed the MISTC (Men's International Squash Tournament Council). It had four primary aims:

1. To develop and co-ordinate the Men's World Calendar
2. To plan and develop a World Grand Prix Circuit for men's squash
3. To issue regular Grand Prix bonus points / latest status reports
4. To arrange contracts with Men's Grand Prix sponsors.

While the Circuit was formed with points published, the search for Grand Prix partners / sponsors didn't succeed, and by 1989 the partnership was disbanded.

In February 1986 the International Olympic Committee (IOC) granted official recognition to the ISRF (now WSF) – thus admitting squash into the Olympic movement. At that point the hope was that squash could try to become a demonstration sport for the Olympic Games in 1992 (Barcelona).

This was not possible for Barcelona, nor Atlanta 1996 or, most disappointingly, Sydney 2000, after which the demonstration sport option was discontinued by IOC. World Squash Federation

Squash first became 'managed' internationally when the Royal Automobile Club (RAC) set up its own squash committee to run squash at the Club - it first met on 19th June 1912. Then the Tennis & Rackets Association appointed a squash sub-committee to look after squash's growth, dealing with Rules, specifications etc. It became too much for them to deal with so the English Squash Rackets Association (SRA) came into being in December 1928. They coordinated the sport until The International Squash Rackets Federation (now WSF) was formed in January 1967. Here is the 1929 list of SRA member clubs, a selection including armed forces and overseas including Cairo, Sydney and no less than two from Khartoum, Sudan.

The inaugural AGM of the ISRF (International Squash Rackets Federation, now WSF), took place in London on 5 January 1967. The sport of squash had been led by the British Squash Association from its formation in 1928 until this point.

The seven nations represented were Australia, United Arab Republic (Egypt), Great Britain, India, New Zealand, Pakistan & South Africa.

Englishman Peter Phillips (pic) became the first Chairman – neatly linking the start of ISRF with the beginning of the sport at Harrow school where he was educated! Amongst other items initially dealt with, a constitution was agreed, the Rules in force were adopted, and an initial annual subscription of GB£100 decided.

Arrangements were also made to initiate and manage World Championships.

The issue of USA not being able to join due to not subscribing to one of the main objects of the Federation – upholding the Rules of Squash – due to the variation primarily played there, was overcome by inviting USA & Canada to become Associate members. This was soon upgraded and involvement / championship participation became possible. World Squash Federation

In 1996 WISPA Board members attending the WSF AGM showed up wearing men's shirts and ties, and with moustaches affixed! Here are the minutes of the 1st AGM, and Women's World Ranking list from 1984.

Minutes of 1st General Meeting of the Women's International Squash Players
Group held February 26th, 1984 at Belfast Boat Club - 10.00 a.m.

Present:

Rae Anderson, Robyn Blackwood, Gail Clark, Sue Cooper, Susan Dewey, Sonia Gwynn, Liz Irving, Martina La Motte, Jan Miller, Lisa O'Leary, Tracy Smith, Sally Taylor, Rhonda Thomas.

General aims of the Association were outlined, as in the constitution, and it was decided to go ahead and officially form a women's I.S.P.A. Association.

The constitution was discussed and proposed by Susan Dewey to be accepted subject to final approval and amended by Sue Cooper - accepted unanimously.

A name was discussed and the matter was deferred to later in the meeting.

Election of Officers for the Executive Committee:

President - Sue Cooper.

Secretary/Treasurer - Rae Anderson.

Committee elected by ballot:

Sue Cooper, Rhonda Thomas, Heather Wallace.

[Gail Clark went to toilet].

Deputations (1) to the Executive.

An entrance fee and subscription was discussed and it was unanimously decided that the fee for 1984/85 should be set at:

Entrance Fee - $40 or £20.

Annual Subscription - $80 or £40.

This is on top of the Federation Membership fee of $40 paid by numerous players and 2 partners.

The name of the association was again discussed - WISPA, ISPA, WISPA, WISPA, WISPA were all considered. Agreement was difficult and WISPA was later adopted subject to confirmation at the E.C.M. to be held at the British Open.

The meeting finished at 10.30 p.m. and the Executive Committee then met.
